[From the Church of England Magazine]

The Loved and Lost. "The loved and lost !" why do we call them lost? Because we miss them from our onward road? God's unseen angel o'er our pathway crost, Straightway relieved them from life's weary load. They are not lost; they are within the door That shuts out loss, and every burtful thing-With angels bright, and loved ones gone before, In their Bolcemer's presence evermore,

Looked on us all, and loving them the most,

And God himself their Lord, and Judge, and King. And this we call a "loss;" O, selfish sorrow Of selfish hearts! O, we of little faith! Let us look around, argument to borrow Why we in patience should await the morrow That surely must succeed this night of death.

Aye, look upon this dreary desert path, participate with The thorns and thisties wheresoe'er we turn ; What trials and what tears, what wrongs and wrath, What struggles and what strife the journey hath ! They have escaped from these; and lo! we mourn.

Ask the poor sailor, when the wreck is done, Who with his treasures strove the shore to reach, While with the raging wave he battled on, Was it not joy, where every joy seemed gone, To see his loved ones landed on the beach?

A poor wayfarer, leading by the hand A little child, had halted by the well To wash from off her feet the clinging sand, And tell the tired boy of that bright land

Where, this long journey past, they longed to dwell; When lo! the Lord, who many mansions had, Drew near and looked upon the suffering twain, Then pitying spake, 'Give me the little lad ; In strength renewed, and glorious beauty clad ; I'll bring him with me when I come again."

Did she make answer selfishly and wrong-" Nay, but the woes I feel he too must share !" Or rather bursting into grateful song. She went her way rejoicing, and made strong To struggle on, since he was freed from care.

We will do likewise; death hath made no breach In love and sympathy, in hope and trust; No outward sign or sound our ears can reach. But there's an inward, spiritual speech That greets us still, though mortal tongues be dust.

it hids us do the work that they laid down-Take up the song where they broke off the strain ; So journeying till we reach the heavenly town, Where are laid up our treasures and our crown, And our lost loved ones will be found again.

VARIETY.

A bankrupt notices with evident relish that all men have their failings. The Journal that shifts opinions with every political wind is a paper of tacks. A gentleman may render assistance to a lone lady, but while doing so, should say as little as

A little boy in Springfield, Mass., after his customary evening prayer, a night or two ago, continued, "and bless mamma and Jenny and Uncle Benny," adding, after a moment's pause, the explanatory remark, "his name is Hopkins." Boston Post: " Brace up and have some style about you," said a newsboy to the gentleman who suddenly sat down on the sidewalk yester-In the Orient they wont let a fellow see his girl until the clergyman has tied the knot, and in that way a poor mother has a chance to work off her cross-eyed daughters. Here are some classic names of towns in the " pocket" of Indiana : Crowbait, Gabtown, Lick-skillet, Polkpatch, Buckskin, Rear and Charge, Shoestring, Shanghai, Stretchet, Babytown. It is better to say our " Our Father " slowly, reverently, than many long prayers, uttered with the lips indeed, but not with the heart, while the thoughts go straying about the four corners

Lowell says: The people often make blunders in their choice; they are apt to mistake presence of speech for presence of mind; they love so to help a man rise from the ranks, that they will spoil a good demagogue to make a bad General. Nine sewing-machines and fifty ladies were in simultaneous operation at a Mt. Upton (N. Y.) sewing party the other day. They used up forty-eight skeins of thread, ninety yards of calico, and every reputation in the city. Burlington Hawkeye: The Senate acted wisely in deciding not to let the U. S. Supreme Court count the Electoral vote. That august body would have docked the matter, and by the time it got to it for action all the present candidates would be dead. "The Mad Mangler; or, the Terror of Murderer's Gulch," is the latest dime sensation. The hero kills twenty Indians at one shot, and rescues fourteen beautiful Mormon girls, all of whom he marries in the Endowment House at one clip. Now let the Centennial youth of America take courage. "Where did this baby come from?" asked a little three-year-old girl of the nurse, who was washing the squealing little stranger. "Why, from heaven, of course!" replied the nurse. "Well, if it screamed like that there, I don't wonder they sent it off!" was the stunning re-

A Toronto paper has just disgusted the fashionable world of that city by inserting a mysterious paragraph announcing a stylish wedding for a given morning. The church was fairly jammed with aristocracy that crowded to assist at the nuptials of a Pullman car conductor and a laundress-both colored. There has been a good deal of Scripture quoted on Gov. Tilden during the campaign, but no quotation has fitted better than the following, from the third chapter of First Samuel: " And Samuel arose and went to Eli and said, 'Here am

I, for thou didst call me.' And he answered, 'I called not, my son; lie down again.' . So Samuel went and lay down in his place," A story is going round that John Jacob Astor and A. T. Stewart met at the river Styx, and had some trouble with the ferryman about getting across, whereupon Mr. Stewart advised that they hold on a little, as Vanderbilt would be there y soon and start an opposition line; then they would get through cheaper. A CONSIDERATE MAN .- A day or two before the Hell Gate explosion, a married man called on General Newton and besought him to give him a front seat for his mother-in-law, regardless of expense. The old lady's eyes, he said, were not very good, and he wouldn't mind how dangerous it was so long as he could get her a good place. The General, who is a married man himself, shook hands with him warmly and gave him a pass for two, and the applicant withdrew with tears in his eyes.

"TILDEN OR A FIGHT!" said the venerable Hunker in fierce tones at a small gathering yesterday. "Ob, very well," said a little man, bustling up to him; " we'll have the fight right here and settle the matter at once. Do you wish to take off your coat." "Sir," said the venerable Hanker, wiping some crumbs from his un-shaved chin, "things must be done decently and in order. There must be organisation, sir-organisation. The troops must be called out reg'larly. None o' yer rough-an'-tumbles for me. Good-day, sir, good-day." He went out hasitly, and pausing at a street-corner said reflectively, "Arter all, it ain't best to rush things.
